Germans are Shoved Back Two Miles in Direction Of Lugo, Headquarters Announces

BATTLING FOR FAENZA

By SID FEDER

Rome, Dec. 13.—(P)—Canadian troops have spanned the Lagoon river and established two bridgeheads northeast of the highway town of Faenza, shoving the Germans back two miles in the direction of Lugo, Allied headquarters announced today.

The bridgeheads, thrust across the stream some nine miles from Faenza, were joined in a continuous front of 6,000 yards after 24 hours of stiff fighting.

The northern flank of the attack pushed along the Ravenna-Bologna railway northwest of Faenza and the Allied troops were reported astride this route for some distance. This railway first was cut northeast of Lugo several days ago.

The Germans were thrown back beyond the Fosso Vecchio O. Cantrigo, a small stream paralleling the Lamone. More than 200 prisoners were taken and a number of armored vehicles were knocked out.

Below the new bridgehead line to Faenza the Allied positions were unchanged as the flooded Lamone provided an effective barrier.

Red Assault Forces Point To Budapest

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Dec. 13.—(P)—Russian assault forces pointed toward Budapest today from newly-captured Godollo, 10½ miles to the north-east, while artillery drew up in close formation at the northern and southern outskirts of the Hungarian capital.

Despite the close approach of the Red army siege semi-circles no front dispatches mentioned anything about the fall of the Hungarian capital being "imminent."

The city's inhabitants have fled westward by the thousands and the German garrison was said to have dug in apparently determined to hold out until full destruction of the metropolis.

From the Russian positions many fires could be observed inside the city.

The fall of Godollo ripped a wide gap in the enemy's defense lines northeast of Budapest.

The Moscow communiqué also announced capture of Sajószentpeter 10 miles north of Miskolc, and ten other towns in the central Slovakia border area.

RAF Puts Torch To Essen Again

By HOWARD COWAN

London, Dec. 13.—(P)—RAF fire bombers put the torch last night to Essen, home of the Krupp armament works.

The Essen raid increased operations against the Reich in a 24-hour period to four major attacks on eight German cities by 4,000 British and American planes loaded with 10,000 tons of bombs.

Losses were 13 British bombers, 11 American bombers and nine American fighters in the four attacks.

It was the second straight day of 10,000-ton bombing for Germany by Fortresses, Liberators, Lancasters and Mosquitos from U. S. air forces based in Britain and Italy, and the RAF.

Some night fighters opposed the Essen attack, but five were shot down.

Rescuers To Aid Snowbound Train

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 13.—(P)—A second rescue train was sent from here today in an effort to reach a snowbound two-coach passenger train, lost since early yesterday in snow banks 45 miles east of here.

A previous train dispatched when location of the lost Grafton-bound train near Elkhurst was established early today, was also stranded in deep drifts, 10 miles short of the passenger train.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad said information reaching here revealed that the passenger locomotive had "died" for lack of water after being no longer able to push through the drifts.

In Less Than Three Hours Following Before Dawn Action Yank Rifleman Advance More Than Mile to Enter Village of Rollesbroich

PITTED AGAINST FIFTH PANZER TANK ARMY

Paris, Dec. 13.—(P)—American First Army troops cleared the Germans from five miles of the west bank of the Roer river today. In a new drive southwest of besieged Duren they advanced up to two miles and captured three villages.

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Paris, Dec. 13.—(P)—The southern wing of the U. S. First Army sprang into action before dawn today, sloshing eastward toward the Rhine city of Bonn in an attack beyond the Hurtgen forest southwest of besieged Duren.

In less than three hours, Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' muddy rifleman had advanced more than a mile and entered the village of Rollesbroich, 13 miles southwest of Duren and 35 west of Bonn.

The advance was between the Hurtgen and Monschau forests and was four and a half miles east of Rotgen, first German town conquered by American armies. A little farther north, other units of the First Army, now opposed by the new German Fifth Panzer Army, were within 28 miles of Bonn (Pop. 101,000). Bonn lies 15 miles south-east of Cologne.

The First Army was drawn up to the swift and high Roer on both sides of Duren. In the center of the western front, the U. S. 7th army trained it artillery on large sections of the German defenses inside the Bavarian palatinate while the Third Army fought slowly deeper into the Siegfried Line inside the industrial Saarland.

It may now be disclosed that the Germans have pitted their new Fifth Panzer (tank) army against the U. S. First Army on the Cologne plain. The commander is Gen. Hasso Eckardt von Mantuffel, 47, veteran of the siege of Bizerte in North Africa. His army includes armored units, regular infantry, and Volksgrenadier troops.

The last infested cellars west of the Roer were being cleared by the U. S. First Army. A few Germans during the night filtered back into Derichweiler, Gey and Mariaweller, virtually suburbs of Duren, and these were being blasted from the cold mud, one by one.

The Germans used a strange new aerial device, silvery balls floating in the air. Their purpose was not immediately clear.

Swift advances by the U. S. Seventh Army in the Karlsruhe corner brought the German frontier within sight at many points and placed great sections of the Siegfried line works within short artillery range. Vanguard were within 15 miles of Karlsruhe.

Six miles inside the industrial Saarland, the U. S. Third Army shouldered its way through another 700 yards of Fraulautern, winning half that satellite town a mile north of Saarlautern. Repeated counterattacks were broken three miles north at Dillingen and artillery range. Vanguard were within 15 miles of Karlsruhe.

The Third Army moved across the German frontier anew, spanning the flooded Blies river and capturing Habkirchen, three miles northeast of Sarreguemines.

In advances of more than eight miles, Seventh Army troops surged through Langensulzbach and headed farther north toward Mattstall, four miles south of Germany's palatinate and 11½ miles north and slightly west of the captured French city of Haguenau.

Directly north of Haguenau Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's men captured Merwiller and thrust to within eight miles of the important highway junction of Wissembourg.

On the west flank the Americans cleared Petter-Rederching, five miles west of Bitch and less than four miles from the German border. At one point Patch's troops had reached within two and a half miles of the border.

This is the picture of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler's master plan for the struggle, as pieced together from information now available from various sources.

Himmler started laying the plans for underground warfare in the last two months of 1943 and these plans now are being carried out in Germany.

The plans are threefold, embracing (1) open warfare directed from Hitler's mountain headquarters; (2) sabotage and guerrilla activity conducted by partisan bands organized by districts; and (3) propaganda warfare to be carried on by some 200,000 Nazi followers in Europe and elsewhere.

Already picked S. S. (Elite) troops have been established in underground strongholds and hospitals in the Austrian, Bavarian and Italian Alpine area and it is the plan of Nazi leaders to flee to that region when the German military collapse comes. Only true and tried party members will be allowed to enter the strongholds.

The Nazi party already has concentrated food and munitions in the Alpine area sufficient to carry on for a long period.

Youngsville District Makes Fine Record in Bond Drive

If every district could match the fast pace being set by District II, the Sixth War Loan would be over the top in this county and Warren countians could again boast of being the state leaders instead of being forced to admit occupancy of one of the lower rungs on the Pennsylvania Sixth War Loan ladder.

District II, the "Youngsville District," is composed to Youngsville borough, Spring Creek, Pittsfield, Brokenstraw, Pleasant and Conewango townships, excluding North Warren, and received a quota in "E" Bonds of $25,500.

This constituted quite a challenge to that section of the county, but the results to date show that the volunteer workers of District II took off their coats and did a job they can well be proud of. As of yesterday afternoon they had sales of $25,556.25 in "E" Bonds; and this figure is by no means final, for there are several outlying districts which have not yet reported and the total includes only the "E" Bonds issued by the post office and bank.

As has been so often emphasized, the actual success of the Sixth War Loan depends largely on the volume of "E" Bond sales, and hats must be doffed to the volunteer workers of District II and to the residents of that section who purchased the extra bonds which put the "Youngsville District" over the top.

The Warren County War Finance Committee today proudly salutes District II's patriotic citizens and the members of the bond-selling corps, headed by Howard M. Kay, of Youngsville, the district leader, and his assistant leaders, C. W. Spencer, of Youngsville and Glenn Donaldson, of Spring Creek.

CLIP AND MAIL TO A SERVICE MAN

"Dear Bill: Your letter of November 26th about the progress of the 6th War Loan has gone unanswered for I don't know what to say. Of course I bought an extra Bond, a little one, besides my pay roll savings deduction. To tell you the truth I think this drive is in the bag. Of course we've met only about half our county quota and the drive is nearly over. But I still think the Banks, corporations and people with a lot of dough will push it over—it's not my worry. Besides, Christmas is coming and a guy needs a little extra cash at Christmas time."

Is this what we are going to tell our soldiers from Warren County when we write them? How are we going to explain our fall-down in this 6th War Loan? They have a right to know the answer and the answer isn't pleasant. The way it looks now Warren County has fallen down on "E" Bond buying—for the second time in a row. We glibly say: "Oh, the 5th War Loan went over. We didn't come near the quota in 'E' Bonds but the grand total was over-subscribed. The Sixth will end the same way—wait and see."

There's been too much taken for granted in this Sixth War Loan. Too much complacency. Too much of the feeling, by almost all of us, that we'll let "someone else" do our share this time. The records show it and the figures on the sales of Bonds show it too.

Christmas is coming, sure. The children must have some toys, maybe there will be a few wextras you want for that day . . . for your wife, your home or some loved one. But, put the war first. Put the GI who is doing your fighting for you first.

Let's make his Christmas sure and secure—let's make his return more assured. Let's truthfully tell ourselves that this Christmas belongs to the men out there who are fighting the battle of their lives to assure us happier Christmases in the years to come. Let's feel proud, on Christmas Day, that giving is far better than receiving. Let's quit kidding ourselves that this 6th War Loan can reach its quota without all the help we can give it. Let's buy one more Bond before we buy one more thing for Christmas.

GIVE THE BOYS SUPPLIES THEY NEED

American soldiers—yes, Pennsylvania soldiers—are now fighting inside the borders of Germany. In snow and rain, in hail and sleet, in mud sometimes waist-deep, they are finding the going tough. Entering a German city or village, they are met with bitter hostility and opposition. Snipers on every side are shooting down these brave boys from Warren, Sheffield, Youngsville, Tidioute, Sugar Grove, Oil City, Kane—boys from every county in Pennsylvania. Our assault upon the fortress of Germany must be slow because in every city and town our soldiers must go forward street by street and house to house, sacrificing many lives and spilling much of their blood as they move onward toward victory.

We, here on the Home Front, are attempting to supply these fighting men—our own sons and brothers—with the supplies they need to win, the supplies they must have if they are to push on and on toward Victory. But, are we fighting as they are doing—street by street and house to house—for waste paper and tin cans?

General Eisenhower repeatedly has called within the last two weeks for more ammunition—more shells and explosives. He has taken a group of men from the Fighting Front and sent them back home to appeal to all of us for more supplies to be speeded to our Armies in France and Germany. Those supplies include materials manufactured with thousands of tons of waste paper and thousands of tons of prepared tin cans. No matter how many shells our steel mills produce, they will be worthless unless we have containers made from paperboard to protect them as well as V-boxes, also made of paperboard, for their shipment overseas.

We, Pennsylvanians, think that we have been good to our boys overseas. We have sent them candy, cakes, cigarettes and many, many useful things in their Christmas boxes. But, unless we speed up the collection of waste paper and prepared tin cans now and get them into production, those boys to whom we sent those Christmas boxes may die in battle or from wounds even before Christmas eve.

Please think over this situation carefully. Please do not forget that we are now in the most critical period of the war. It is your boy and my boy who are calling for more ammunition, more medicines, more blood plasma, more food.

The best Christmas that we can give them is to double our waste paper collections and our tin can collections in December. It will mean that they can come home to use sooner. And, you know, how those boys want to get home!

Keep Faith: Today read Revelations 21.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Political dopesters here are still trying to evaluate the unanimous decision of the CIO convention to make PAC a permanent organization. The fog arises out the fact that it isn't yet possible—and perhaps never will be—to evaluate the importance of PAC in the November elections.

It is conceded by members of both parties that PAC or somebody did a whole lot of job getting out the vote in industrial areas both in the primaries and general elections.

Some candidates they backed won, others were defeated. Some in both categories were Republicans; others Democrats. In many instances, the value of organized labor support has to be weighed against purely local factors, personalities of the candidates, effectiveness of their campaigns and a number of other things.

It will take more than the 1944 elections to measure with any exactness the influence of the PAC. Some brush it off as unimportant and a lucky stroke of being opportunist. At the other extreme are those who say gloomily or happily that the PAC may be the nucleus of a new party which will wreck both the GOP and Democrats unless they organize.

FARM NEWS

Provide Poultry Feed — Good quality leafy hays, highly valuable because of their proteins, minerals, and vitamins, produce excellent results when fed to poultry, according to the Pennsylvania State College extension poultry specialists. Hays other than corn can be used in the ration when hay is fed.

Time to Butcher — Farm butchering time has come again. Killing, cutting, and curing of pork, beef, mutton will be demonstrated by extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College in meetings all over the State. The demonstrations show farmers how they may supply their families with high quality meat.

Disease Hits Grass — Dollar spot, a disease which attacks turf, is more prevalent and destructive now than for many years, report extension plant pathologists of the Pennsylvania State College. Treatment is 3 ounces of the standard 2-1 mixture of calomel and corrosive sublimate to each thousand square feet of turf.

Study by Mail — Correspondence courses in agriculture and home economics are available from the Pennsylvania State College in 48 different subjects. The courses are in general agriculture, animal industry, dairying, horticulture, home economics, and a group of miscellaneous subjects.

Plan Hog Pasture — Because feed is short and high in price, important say Penn State extension livestock specialists, who add that this is a good time to plan for pasture rotation.

Chicks Need Comfort — Chicks hatched in cold weather need comfortable brooding conditions to promote good health and rapid growth, remind Penn State extension poultry specialists.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Visiting soldiers and sailors returned from the wars are proving effective bone-cracking critics on the movie sets, but there's one place where Hollywood draws the line on realism.

Two Marines, newly from the Southwest Pacific, approved the authenticity of movie huts supposed to be on Guadalcanal and Bougainville for "Song of the Sarong" and Director Harold Young at their suggestion shortened some spears. When they remarked that Nancy Kelly was too fair for an authentic island girl, he obligingly ordered a darker make-up.

"And they were a lot more chunky than Miss Kelly," volunteered the Marines critic.

That was where romance, rather than authenticity, prevailed. Miss Kelly remained slim.

When Jinx Falkenburg was making "Song of Tahiti" she asked an admiring GI visitor how she compared with the girls out there.

"You have too many teeth, you're about 80 pounds underweight, and you smell too nice," was the frank reply—but nobody rushed to make Jinx conform to his specifications.

CHARLES KORVIN is the new and rugged heart-throb of Universal since the preview of the "Arsene Lupin" picture. But his real name, Geza (pronounced Jay-z), is how he's known to everybody on the lot, from labor to executives.

Geza's avocation is cooking. In Hungary when he was a boy he used to help his mother in the kitchen, thus acquiring her recipes. In Paris, when he was near penniless, he used to make cheap groceries palatable by his cooking. Last April when he married Helena Fredericks it was Geza who did the cooking.

But when he went to work on his first picture the bride took over the kitchen.

"She is doing very well," the bridegroom beams fondly. "I am very proud of her."

You have to know Geza to realize what praise he confers!

MORRIS CARNOVSKY, the character, was holding forth to a group of younger players on the "Miss Susie Slagle" set. His theme: poise vs. nervousness as an asset in young applicants for acting jobs.

"You generally get two types of applicants," he said. "One is fresh out of dramatic school, with perfect bearing, flawless diction, assurance. The other is clumsy, faltering, unsure. I would almost invariably pick the latter type. He's more likely to develop into a sincere, honest actor."

John Berry, the director, broke the session by calling Sonny for a scene. As Sonny rose, he tripped over his chair and fell.

"See what I mean?" said Carnovsky.

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

While it is nothing to get panicky about the new bus-bombs that the Germans are hailing as their new secret weapon with which to bomb New York is undoubtedly real. Best military and scientific minds agree that the V-3 might be able to cross the Atlantic with a load of explosives. However the difficulty is said to direct with any degree of accuracy the proposed bomb. If that should be true it is possible that Warren might get in the way of one of the bombs. Warren is only 400 miles away from New York and if the Bosche directs his bombs at the United States and they fly in the stratosphere a few hundred miles will not mean much. Here's hoping that the Germans don't come through with their boasted invention but they might and this section might even get a wallop from some of them. The German is a desperate foe and wholly without any humanitarian instinct and he might just let go a flock of those bombs and let 'em drop where they may.

Being so blamed dumb for a time it was difficult to understand the theory of the dentist until it was finally figured out that with the soprano squealing loudly passers-by couldn't tell when the patient let out a yip. However a lot of boys agree that it would be a swell idea to get some radios in barber shops as even the operative programs would be better than some of the chatter the barbers let loose. Could be!

Many favorable comments have been received on the houses offered thus far and undoubtedly those interested in building a home can derive a wealth of information from these monthly suggestions. For December the bank features "The Lynn", a small house of Cape Cod design. In effect, this home is an answer to the desires expressed by the G.I.'s in a recent unofficial poll and it will likewise appeal to a great many on the home front. Pictures and floor plans appear in an advertisement in today's Times-Mirror and complete blueprints and specifications are displayed in the bank's lobby.

LOST HIS DEER

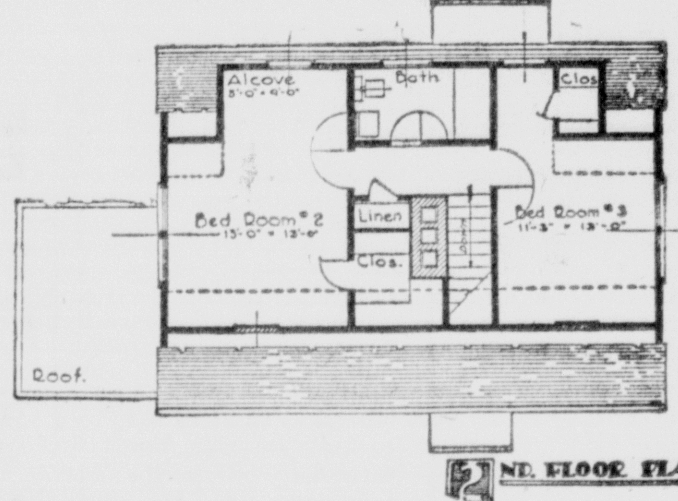

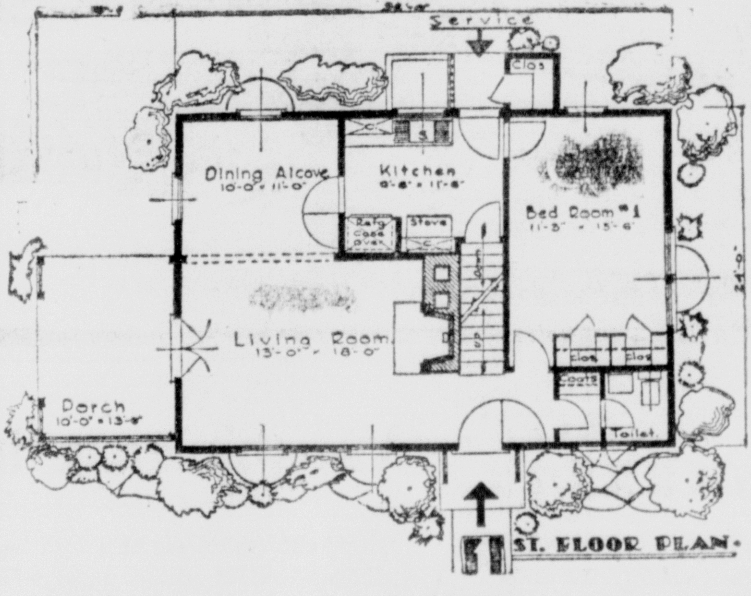

A tale is told of an Erie hunter who boarded a train in the county and placed his deer in the baggage car with the admonition, "take it off at the Union station." The train crew misunderstood and unloaded the deer at Union City. On arrival at Erie, the hunter went to get his deer, only to learn that it had been dumped off at Union City. Going to that place, he discovered the deer had disappeared. Another Erie hunter is reported to have arrived at a hunting camp below Sheffield only to discover on arrival that he had forgotten his gun.

To the People of this Community

No thoughtful American will offer an excuse for non-participation or minimum participation in the Sixth War Loan that he has bought war bonds in previous years.

This is the kind of a war in which every American's life and home are just as much imperilled as the life of a combat soldier. This war has to be fought on the enemy's terms. The Japanese are death by bayonet, starvation or even worse. The Japanese kill or are killed. The Japanese think you will be unable to match their sacrificial spirit, their willingness to conquer or die.

All of us in saying a goodbye to our own overseas driven man or woman in uniform offer him or her our pledge of support. The test of our sincerity is our willingness to sacrifice. If you have received your War Bond but you have failed to recognize your responsibilities as a relative or friend of a fighting man.

Shrine Club Gifts Prove Most Timely

The Warren County Shrine Club has received a letter from the Zem Zem Hospital for Crippled Children acknowledging generous gifts from the local organization. The Warren County Club extends aid in a substantial manner to the Zem Zem Temple activities and that it is appreciated is evidenced by the following letter:

December 1, 1944.
B. V. Lesser, Secy.
Warren County Shrine Club
Warren, Pa.

Dear Noble Lesser:—
The Board of Trustees of Zem Zem Hospital for Crippled Children wish to express its thanks and appreciation to you and through you to the Nobles of the Warren County Shrine Club for the very generous action taken by the Warren County Shrine Club to pay for three new beds complete with linens.

It was necessary to procure more beds for the hospital due to the many children admitted to the hospital in the last two months. All of them being victims of the recent infantile paralysis situation. Beds have been temporarily borrowed until the new beds arrive from the manufacturer. Just as soon as the invoice is received for the beds, we will send you an invoice for the three beds complete. The renewal policy for the insurance on the station wagon has just been received with the annual premium paid for by the Warren County Shrine Club. The station wagon, another of your many gifts to the hospital, is in first class condition and has been a wonderful asset in the work of the hospital.

Very truly yours,
Zem Zem Hospital,
Secretary.

Freight From Pennsy Main Line Seen Here

With the ore business out of the way for the present season the Pennsylvania line through Warren is being kept busy with what is known as "coverted service". This consists of freight trains sent from Harrisburg via Warren, Oil City to Pittsburgh. Thus the main line is relieved of many trains and the time made is as good as if the main line tracks were used.

The plan was tried out last winter and found to work well and this year it is again being used. The main line is congested and the spacing of the trains to get through without interruption causes much difficulty during the peak season now at hand. The freight trains are sent in both directions over the Philadelphia and Erie railroad and improves the service.

Send Donation For Seals Now

Attention was called today by the Warren County Tuberculosis Society to the unanswered Christmas Seal letters which have been overlooked in some homes.

"The society has found," explains H. M. Mohr, seal sale chairman, "that in the rush of Christmas preparations, people sometimes overlook or delay sending their contributions and appreciate being reminded."

"A prompt response to outstanding letters will enable the society to go ahead with its 1945 tuberculosis program. The work is supported by numerous small contributions, rather than by a few large ones. It has become a tradition with the American people to unite in the fight against tuberculosis by buying and using Christmas Seals."

"Since our health program benefits every man, woman and child, we like to feel that every resident has a part in supporting it, regardless of the size of the contribution. Seal and Health Bond contributions in whatever amounts are all welcome."

Make Only Necessary Calls Plea of Telephone Officials

An appeal to Warren telephone users to refrain from making unnecessary calls until the present storm conditions have been cleared up was made today by Horace M. Stevenson, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company.

"The Telephone Company is doing everything in its power to maintain normal service under these conditions," he said. "It is essential that service be maintained at peak efficiency so there may be no delaying of emergency calls. Our facilities are already operating to practical capacity. Quick service on emergency calls can only be given if the lines are not crowded with non-essential calls."

Mr. Stevenson said that it delays are experienced in completing calls and telephones should be out of order, subscribers should not call the Telephone Company's offices.

"If storm conditions put telephones out of order, we will have repair crews out immediately and service will be restored as quickly as possible."

"With the cooperation of the public, we hope to be able to maintain normal telephone service despite the storm," he said. "The principal way the public can cooperate is to keep the lines clear by not making unessential calls."

County Still Far Below Its Waste Paper Salvage Quota

Warren county is still far below its quota on the Number 1 Salvage need of the nation, Waste Paper. This was evident from the official Salvage report for the month of November issued this morning. Though the county harvested 25 tons more paper than in October, it is still doing a poor job of meeting its requirement. "We must speed up on production of paper all along the line from the small pile of newspapers on Warren county curbs to the hundreds of finished products on the way to war," said W. T. Corbett, chairman of the County Salvage Committee.

The great distances in the Pacific area require heavier cartons and more secure packing. More ammunition for Eisenhower means more cartons. The public must supply more waste paper faster; their plants must boost their production.

Irish Potatoes Price Supports

Price supports for Irish potatoes are extended through April of 1945, as announced by the War Food Administration through N. E. Dodd, chairman of the County AAA Committee at Warren.

The original price support schedule announced last March continued to the end of the present calendar year but due to the unusual rate of movement of late crop potatoes from surplus producing states during the early month of this season, which began late in August, the extension was granted for the protection of local producers. This early movement of potatoes was stimulated by drought-reduced production in states which normally produce their own requirements during the early fall.

Pennsylvania price supports for U. S. No. 1's in 100 pound bags of uniform appearance and proper quality, loaded in cartons, are: November, $2.30; December, $2.40; January, $2.45; February, $2.55; March, $2.65; April, $2.75.

Letters to the Editor

Warren, Pa.
December 12, 1944
Editor of the Times-Mirror

Dear Sir:

I have been waiting, as I did during the Fourth and Fifth War Loan Campaigns, to be solicited for the purchase of a bond. To date none of the block leaders have called upon me, and I was wondering if I should go to the theatre or make an effort to find a bond seller, from whom to buy a bond, as I have near the close of the other campaigns. Therefore, I was pleased to see the list of workers for the Sixth War Loan on Monday's paper. Now it will not be so difficult to locate a bond seller.

Probably it has been printed sometime, but I have not seen the closing date for the Sixth War Loan Campaign and am wondering what it is.

Yours very truly,
A. Would-be Bond Buyer.

(Editor's note: The closing date for the larger issues in the Sixth War Loan Drive is December 20th. For the smaller denominations, including "E", "F", and "G", the campaign is to close December 31st.)

Taylor Choice as President Protempore

 that office without title. Tallman was re-elected chairman of the caucus.

Robert P. Frey, of York county, was endorsed for re-election as director of the legislative reference bureau, a post filled jointly by the house and senate.

LeRoy E. Chapman, of Warren, a senator since 1931 and in line for the presidency on the basis of seniority, removed himself from consideration before the caucus opened and nominated Taylor for the post. Tallman said the vote was unanimous and no other nominations were made.

"Chapman paid a very handsome tribute to Harvey Taylor in his nomination speech," Tallman said. "The caucus was very harmonious."

Taylor, who was re-elected last month as senator from Dauphin county, succeeds Senator Charles H. Early, of Somerset, who was not a candidate for re-election. Senate officials said it was the first time to their knowledge that a one-term member had been selected for the presidency, which pays $500 annually and expenses in addition to a senator's $3,000 salary.

The president protempore names committees and presides over the senate in the absence of the lieutenant governor.

Grange Opposes Peace-Time Draft

Harrisburg, Dec. 13—(P)—The Pennsylvania State Grange today adopted a resolution opposing peace-time conscription of American youth for military training.

The resolution, presented at the Grange's annual convention, said the proposal under consideration by congress "is very undemocratic and contrary to American ideals."

Enactment of such a law, the resolution said "would break faith with the 10,000,000 men under arms at present," and added that such a measure, in any event, should not be passed at this time.

Vast Sections of Nation Dig From Under Record Snowfall

 supervisor for the "big woods" section of Forest, Warren, Venango, Erie, Mercer, Crawford, Butler and Lawrence counties, said "the deer season is washed out right now unless the weather moderates."

In Warren county, Game Protector George Norris reported scores of hunters marooned by drifted rural roads. Deer hunting is at an end now, he said, since the deer have gone far back into the hemlocks and are lying down.

Similar reports were received from the Kane and Clearfield areas.

Franklin reported a 19-inch snowfall. The state highway garage on the Butler-Oil City highway said all crews had been on duty since Monday but so far had been able to clear main roads only.

 threat to German troops battling to hold Faenza, for Eighth Army forces previously had succeeded in winning a bridgehead across the Lamone below the city and have been holding it against repeated enemy counterattacks.

The Canadians launched their assault after being held for a week on the east bank of the rain-swollen stream. Despite violent opposition they battled their way across the stream in 24 hours of bitter fighting.
